DOLORES GETS JEWELS

Singer Broke Mother's Will to Get Them.

Mlle. Dolores, or Trebelli, as she was variously known to Honolulu audiences, has just come into possession of property left by her mother, after contesting the will by which she had been disinherited. Mlle. Dolores was in Honolulu in May of 1903. She had then changed her name from Mme. Trebelli to Mlle. Dolores, because while in Australia, where she was originally billed as Trebelli, everybody said, "Why, she is too old to sing," believing that it was her mother whose voice had charmed them so long before. For that reason she became Mlle. Dolores.

Then about a year ago her mother died, leaving her only daughter as a rightful heir to her property. Strange to say, the mother as she grew older, became jealous of the success of her daughter, and after her death it was found that she had left nothing of much value to her.

Mme. Trebelli was an enthusiast in her espousal of the cause of the Royal Academy of Music, and was in other ways quite eccentric. In her testament she bequeathed a magnificent collection of French jewels to the institution. The daughter left England, and, unmindful of the will, took the jewels with her. A lawsuit was instituted and a writ of attachment issued against her. She kept away from England, to the chagrin of her many friends, filling engagements on the continent. So popular, however, had she become since her debut that managers vied with each other to gain her consent to return to England, offering to pay her for the jewels if she would relinquish them to the academy. But with the plucky songster it was not a question of money but of principle. So her friends resolved to seek an agreement with the academy in regard to the points at issue, with the result that everything is satisfactorily arranged. Now Signora Dolores will reappear on the London concert platform and will be permitted to retain her mother's jewels.

IT GIVES ALMOST INSTANT EFFECT

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND

HIS QUICK RESTORATION.

A Few Days of Paine's Celery Compound Made this Worn-Out Man "the Picture of Health."

"I was a victim of nervous debility, caused by a severe attack of la Grippe. For a long time I was sick so I could not work without an awful effort and could not eat because of having no appetite. I was extremely nervous. I tried several remedies with no effect, and a vacation did not accomplish any good results.

"A friend recommended your Paine's Celery Compound. To my surprise, IN A FEW DAYS I noticed a general improvement in my health.

I became THE PICTURE OF HEALTH and have not felt badly since then.

"Gratitude compels me to write to you to tell you how Paine's Celery Compound restored me from a wreck.

"I wish to heartily thank you for this benefit."—W. E. GROVE, 1603 Locust St., St. Louis, March 5.

KEPOIKAI'S SUGGESTION

Wants Federal Aid for County Building.

Valuable Documents Are Found By Wailuku People.

Cemetery Association Revived. Pastors' Institute—Personal, etc.

WAILUKU, August 6.—At a meeting held under the auspices of the Wailuku Improvement Association, to consider Acting Governor Adkinson's wireless message asking suggestions for Federal appropriations, a resolution moved by Judge Kepoikai was adopted to the following effect: Whereas the Association believes the $35,000 appropriated for a county building in Wailuku to be insufficient, therefore resolved "that plans be drawn and presented by the Department of Public Works to the Federal Government and that the Federal Government be asked to assist." The idea is to provide accommodation in the building for postoffice, U. S. court, etc., in return for the aid. R. W. Filler recommended that requests be made for three powerful lighthouses, for proper charting of the channels near the coasts of the district and for a breakwater at Kahului. The recommendations were left to a committee, with Mr. Filler chairman, for drawing them up and sending them in due form to the Acting Governor.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

For the past twelve months a revival of the Wailuku Cemetery Association has been agitated, and with the organizing of the Wailuku Improvement Association the matter of repairing and utilizing the cemetery was again brought to the front, and a cemetery committee was appointed, with Judge McKay as chairman.

Judge McKay immediately put himself in communication with the surviving members of the original petitioners and charter members, with the result that the charter, granted June 24, 1876, and signed by William L. Moehonua, Minister of the Interior for Kalakaua Rex, and the deed to one and one-half acres of ground at the head of Vineyard street, Wailuku, signed by H. A. P. Carter, President, and P. C. Jones, Treasurer, of the Wailuku Sugar Co., for a consideration of $150, were found. Later the constitution, by-laws and secretary's minutes were unearthed. Upon investigation of the by-laws Judge McKay found that "persons owning not less than one burial lot of sixteen feet square are members of the Association," so that if the persons holding the deeds can be found, and these represent a majority of the stock issued, a meeting can be held without going to court. The original signers to the petition for a charter were the Rev. W. P. Alexander, Edward Bailey and George W. Williford. These three, together with Goodale Armstrong, W. H. Bailey, L. Lamb, Harold Giles, J. H. Enders, J. C. Bailey, E. H. Bailey and W. H. Daniels were the charter members.

THE PASTORS' INSTITUTE.

The Pastors' Institute for study, discussion of themes and of the need of the work held its first meeting at Paia July 12, 1904, with 18 present. The second meeting was held August 3 at Wailuku with an attendance of 23—eight pastors, five licensed preachers and ten Sunday-school workers and teachers. The first day was given to the study of sermon plans on Col. 1:23 middle clause. Several very good plans were given. One given by the Chinese pastor, one by the pastor of the Japanese, and two by native pastors, were highly commended.

ST. LOUIS.

There was also a study of Genesis, chapters 2 and 3. The morning of the second day was given to a consideration of the practical needs of the work. Much thought was developed along this line which was both stirring and instructive. A vote of thanks was given the Maui News for its kind offer to publish notices of church services. Also to the bodies of the Wailuku native church for their kind entertainment.

The next meeting is to be at Hana Sept. 22, at the time of the meeting of the Association of churches.

ITEMS.

Only three tax appeal cases have been brought before the Maui Tax Appeal Board.

On Tuesday forenoon a load of delicious melons and a shipment of Makawao wheat hay were received at the new fruit store. The hay found immediate sale. Small farming pays.

The stars and stripes were run up on the flagstaff of the First National Bank of Wailuku yesterday, in honor of the return of its Vice-President, W. T. Robinson from the Chicago Convention.

Miss Mary Chillingworth, daughter of Hon. S. F. Chillingworth, arrived by Wednesday's steamer to visit friends in Kahului, Wailuku and Waikapu.

John Kidwell of Honolulu, who ranks high in masonic circles, came to Maui by Tuesday's Mauna Loa, in connection with the proposed organization of a masonic lodge on Maui.

Mrs. H. C. Halvorsen, who has spent several months on the coast, returned to Maui by yesterday's Likilike.

The engagement of Mr. D. K. Hayselden of Lahaina and Miss Katherine Markham of Kau, Hawaii, is announced.

George A. Baldwin, who superintended the construction of the lower end of the big ditch, left for Honolulu by last Saturday's boat.

Hugh Howell was doing some survey work during the early part of the week in connection with the new wharf at McGregor's Landing.
